In the Gospel this week we hear the Lord say: ‘Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things.’

I am sure that the Lord’s words could be addressed to each and every one of us. The Lord knows that we can be anxious about many things in our world today, in our lives and in our relationships. The Lord tells Martha that there is need of only one thing. That one thing is experiencing, savoring and sharing the love and mercy of God.

To help us all relax a little in our relationship with the Lord this summer I share this contemporary psalm by Edward Hays:

“A Psalm of Summer’s Siren”

I salute you, God of rest and vacations, who laid down the law that every seventh day must be free. No work for beast, man or woman was your legal word.

On this summer day, when my heart longs for leisure, my head tells me, “It’s time to go to work.” I wish I had an extra sabbath to enjoy your gift of liberty and peace.

Part of me is so grown-up, and knows how to be productive, to be responsible and to achieve. I have learned to listen to that inner adult and how to successfully silence the echoes of childhood’s play.

I may know and possess more, but I’ve lost something in being a repeat offender, O God, in breaking your law of Seventh Day Vacations. I have forgotten how to vacate my work, to come out of my head and go out-of-doors, to play with you in the summer sun.

“Create and say that the SABBATH is good, blessed is the one who takes refuge in him.”

For where two or three are gathered together in My name, there am I in the midst of them.” (Matthew 18:20)
